

Cat rehoming agreement

Page 1 of 2

A record of giving a cat to a new home between two private people, with what the new owner needs to know.

A sample form, not legal advice, and not a shelter's adoption contract. Laws differ by country and state: check what applies where you live.

Current owner and new owner

Current owner

Full name

Address

Phone

Email

New owner

Full name

Address

Phone

Email

The cat

Name

Breed or mix

Sex; spayed or neutered?

Date of birth (or estimate)

Color and markings

Microchip number

Pet passport or health certificate no.

Registration papers no. (if any)

Vaccinations, as recorded by a vet

| Vaccine (as written in the record) | Date given | Vet or clinic |
|------------------------------------|------------|---------------|
|                                    |            |               |
|                                    |            |               |
|                                    |            |               |

Papers and things handed over

☐ Vaccination record

☐ Pet passport or health certificate

☐ Food, bowls, bed and toys

Other

☐ Vet and health records

☐ Microchip transfer form, signed

☐ Litter box and carrier

Health and behavior, as known to the current owner

Health: illnesses, injuries, medicines, allergies

Behavior: children, animals, indoor or outdoor, fears

 Pettify pettifyapp.com

Keep the history on your phone too: Pettify stores vaccinations, vet visits and documents, with the microchip number in the pet's profile.

A sample form, not legal advice and not an official document. It does not replace the microchip registry, a license or vet records.

App Store

Cat rehoming agreement

Page 2 of 2

Cat's name _____

Daily routine

Food and daily amount

Feeding times

Litter: type and where the box is

Vet clinic and phone

Fee (tick one)

☐ Free of charge

☐ Rehoming fee (amount and currency): _____

Handover

Date

Time

Place (address)

Optional: updates about the pet welcome at (the current owner's phone or email)

What we agree

1. The current owner gives the cat described above to the new owner, who becomes its owner at the handover.
2. The current owner confirms that the cat is theirs to give.
3. Health, behavior and routine are described above as far as the current owner knows them.
4. From the handover, the new owner is responsible for the cat's care, vet care and costs.

Other agreements

Anything else we agree on, in our own words

Signatures

Signed at (place)

Date

Current owner's signature

New owner's signature

 Pettify pettifyapp.com

Keep the history on your phone too: Pettify stores vaccinations, vet visits and documents, with the microchip number in the pet's profile.

A sample form, not legal advice and not an official document. It does not replace the microchip registry, a license or vet records.

App Store